Policy Overview

Purpose	Sets the rules for day-to-day employee use of AI tools and AI-generated outputs, including approved use, prohibited use, data-entry restrictions, output review expectations, and accountability.
Scope	Applies to all personnel using enterprise-approved AI tools or AI-assisted outputs for company business, including pilots and embedded SaaS AI capabilities.
Primary owner	AI Governance Lead
Audience	All employees, contractors, temporary workers, and approved third parties using enterprise AI tools

Policy Statements

- Only approved AI tools and approved use cases may be used for business purposes. Employees shall not use consumer or unapproved AI tools for company work unless an exception is formally approved.
- Users shall not input restricted or prohibited data into AI tools unless the specific tool, use case, and handling method have been reviewed and approved for that data category.
- AI-generated outputs must be reviewed by a human before being relied upon for business decisions, customer communications, code deployment, contractual language, financial analysis, or regulated activities.
- AI may be used to assist work, but accountability for final content, actions, and outcomes remains with the employee and the business owner.
- AI shall not be used to create deceptive, discriminatory, harassing, unlawful, or manipulative content, or to impersonate individuals without authorization.
- Users must follow enterprise copyright, privacy, records retention, security, and communications requirements when using AI-generated content.
- AI outputs that materially affect customers, employees, applicants, or business commitments must include human verification and, where appropriate, documented approval.
- Prompt histories, uploads, generated files, and AI-assisted work products shall be handled as business records when they support decisions, approvals, or regulated activities.

Roles and Responsibilities

- AI Governance Lead maintains the approved AI tools list, usage rules, and exception process.

- Managers ensure personnel understand approved use boundaries and complete required training.
- Users remain accountable for the accuracy, legality, and appropriateness of AI-assisted work products.
- Security, Privacy, and Legal provide review support for restricted data, sensitive outputs, and exceptions.
